1. The electron microscope under construction at OSW¹ for delivery to China (Electron Microscope OSW Type Number 2748) has a pump as well as a voltage stabilizer. The stabilizer for the coils (Spulen) is mounted inside the instrument; the other stabilizer is in the high-voltage part (Hochspannungsteil).
 2. The electron microscope was to have been delivered to China by the end of 1952. As of mid-December 1953, however, the device had not yet been delivered; technical difficulties were responsible for the delay.
